

Bug Report – Unable to Submit Movie Rating Due to Disabled Rate Button

Summary: When attempting to rate a movie with 10 stars, the "Rate" button remains disabled (greyed out), preventing the submission of the rating.

Environment

- URL: <https://www.imdb.com/title/tt32221196/?ref=chtbo t 2>
- Operating System: MacOS Sonoma Version 14.5
- Browser(s):
 - Firefox 134.0.2
 - Chrome Version 132.0.6834.84
- Device: Laptop
- Environment Type: Production

Severity and Priority

- Severity: Minor
- Priority: Medium

Steps to Reproduce

1. Navigate to <https://www.imdb.com/>.
2. Open the Menu and go to the Top Box Office section.
3. Select the 2nd movie in the Top Box Office list.
4. Click on the IMDb Rating button.
5. Select a 10-star rating.
6. Attempt to click the Rate button.

Expected Result: The "Rate" button should be enabled (highlighted in yellow) after selecting a 10-star rating, allowing the user to submit the rating.

Actual Result: The "Rate" button remains disabled (greyed out), preventing the user from submitting the rating.

Supporting Information

- The issue occurs consistently across both Firefox and Chrome browsers.
- This behavior prevents users from rating the movie, which may impact user engagement and feedback collection.
